Justify-content

Justify-content defines how elements are aligned along the main axis.

It helps distribute extra free space when either all the flex items on a line are inflexible or when they're flexible but have reached their maximum size.